Veda Purusha Saptaha Jnana Yagna

Since the early sixties, the festival of Dasara is celebrated at the Poornachandra Auditorium, Prasanthi Nilayam. This Veda Purusha Saptaha Jnana Yagna, is a week-long worship conducted in the Divine Presence for the welfare of the whole world. It commences on the fourth day of Dasara and concludes with the 'Poornahuti' – the final oblation that is offered on Vijayadashami, the tenth day.

In addition to other rituals, the most important component of the Yagnam is the Rudra Yagam where the oblations are made in the Yagna Kunda to Lord Shiva while chanting hymns from the Sri Rudram. The students of Sri Sathya Sai Institute of Higher Learning take active part by chanting the vedas, reading the scriptures and performing other parts of the worship along with the learned pundits.

Prasanthi Vidwan Mahasabha

The evening programmes during seven days of the Veda Purusha Saptaha Jnana Yagna during Dasara are held at Sai Kulwant Hall, Prasanthi Nilayam under the auspices of the 'Prasanthi Vidwan Mahasabha', where many speakers—primarily students and functionaries of Bhagawan's educational institutions—address the gathering on topics concerning spirituality and philosophy, Bhagawan's teachings and experiences of devotees.
